

NIDA Diversity Scholars Travel Award Program

Office of Research Training, Diversity, and Disparities, National Institute on Drug Abuse, NIH

The Office of Research Training, Diversity, and Disparities of the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA ORTDD), is accepting applications for the NIDA Diversity Scholars Travel Award Program to help defray the costs of in-person attendance at national scientific conferences.

The NIDA ORTDD will provide travel awards to the following 2023 scientific conferences:

- The College on Problems of Drug Dependence (CPDD): June 17th – 21st, 2023 in Denver, CO
- The American Psychological Association (APA): August 3rd – 5th, 2023 in Washington, DC
- The National Hispanic Science Network International Conference (NHSN): September 21st – 23rd 2023 in Washington, DC
- The Society for Neuroscience (SfN) Meeting: November 11th – 15th, 2023 in Washington, DC.

The NIDA ORTDD anticipates supporting approximately 5-10 awards for each conference. Travel award recipients will be reimbursed for round trip travel, lodging, and registration for the meeting. Awardees are required to submit receipts for expenses, and will be reimbursed for up to $1500. Note that a single applicant may receive only one travel award per year.

Eligibility

Undergraduate, graduate and medical students, post-doctoral students, medical residents, and early career investigators (who are not more than 10 years past their doctoral degree) conducting substance use and addiction research are eligible to apply. NDSN scholars, Diversity Supplement scholars, NIDA-supported NRSA fellows, NRSA T32 trainees, NIDA R25 trainees, and other NIDA funded trainees, including those from underrepresented groups, are encouraged to apply.

Application Submission Information

Each application must include 1) the application form and 2) a resume or curriculum vitae, that includes a list of publications to date. Applications should be emailed to Julie Huffman at Julie.Huffman@nih.gov with the subject line “NIDA Travel Award Application (CONFERENCE NAME HERE).”

Deadlines to apply for NIDA Travel Awards

- 2023 CPDD Conference: midnight EST on April 1st, 2023
- 2023 APA Conference: midnight EST on May 4th, 2023
- 2023 NHSN Conference: midnight EST on July 7th, 2023
- 2023 SfN Conference: midnight EST on August 14th, 2023

Selection & Notification

NIDA seeks to provide awards to individuals from various career stages whose meeting attendance will advance their NIDA-relevant program of research. Priority will be given to those who have submitted a poster or oral presentation for any of the above listed conferences. Applicants will be notified about award decision no less than 45 days prior to the meeting.

For additional information or questions, please contact Mrs. Julie Huffman at Julie.Huffman@nih.gov.
